

WALKING THE WAY OF ST. CUTHBERT

A Pilgrimage of Celtic Spirituality Through Scotland and Northern England

May 24 – June 4, 2027 • 11 Nights

Hosted by Chuck & Ingrid Davis | Global Leadership Inc.

Dalhousie Castle — our final night's celebration

An Invitation to the Journey

For centuries, pilgrims have followed St. Cuthbert's Way across the Scottish Borders and out over the tidal sands to Holy Island — a path shaped by the prayer and witness of the early Celtic church. Join Chuck and Ingrid Davis for an 11-night pilgrimage that walks this ancient route while tracing the wider story of Christianity in Great Britain, from the Celtic saints to John Knox and the Covenanters. Beginning in Edinburgh and St. Andrews and concluding on Holy Island, with a celebratory final night at Dalhousie Castle. The journey combines guided walking, historic sites, and daily spiritual direction, with comfortable en suite accommodations throughout.

Pilgrimage Highlights

- Edinburgh's Old Town and St. Andrews on foot, tracing the roots of the Scottish Reformation and the witness of John Knox and the Covenanters
- St. Cuthbert's Way itself — six walking days ranging from 5.5 to 13.5 miles, through the Scottish Borders and the Northumberland coast
- The historic Pilgrims' Causeway to Holy Island (Lindisfarne), cradle of Celtic Christianity in England
- Daily spiritual direction exploring Celtic spirituality and the development of Christianity in Great Britain and beyond
- 11 nights in en suite accommodations, including 6 nights in superior properties, and a celebratory final night at Dalhousie Castle
- Hosted personally by Chuck and Ingrid Davis of Global Leadership
